Be considerate. Any decision you make will affect others and we expect you to take those consequences into account when making decisions.

Be respectful. We treat everyone with respect and expect the same in return. We may not always agree, but a disagreement is no excuse for poor behaviour or a lack of manners. We might all experience some frustration now and then, but we cannot allow that frustration to turn into a personal attack. It is important to remember that if people feel uncomfortable or threatened, the learning environment or workplace is not a productive one.

When you disagree, consult others. Disagreements happen all the time and the classroom - online or face-to-face are no exception. The important goal is not to avoid differing views but to resolve them constructively.

Ask for help when you are unsure. Nobody knows everything, and nobody is expected to be perfect. Asking questions helps avoid potential problems.

Your enrolment in a Zealifi course signifies that you:

- Understand that if you are behaving inappropriately, you will be advised verbally that you are breaching the rules and will be requested to stop the offending behaviour.
- Understand that if you do not observe appropriate conduct, you may be excluded from participating in the course and may, in extreme cases, be subject to other penalties and restrictions, including being denied access to further training.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION & TRAINING

National Training Packages

Training packages are sets of nationally endorsed standards and qualifications for recognising and assessing people's skills. A training package and the qualifications contained within it are statements about what a person is competent to do in a workplace.

National Training Packages are developed by industry through the national Skills Council and involve consultation with industry to make sure they meet industry and enterprise needs. Registered Training Organisations such as Zealifi use training packages as the basis for developing training programs in specific areas.

A training program is a structured approach to the development and attainment of competencies for a qualification. It includes the choice of units or options within the training package and the method, training, and location for achieving the competencies.

Competency Based Training (CBT)

Competency standards are used around Australia to describe what your industry accepts as effective performance in the workplace. This includes the knowledge, skills and attitudes needed to do a job.

These standards are divided into units of competency that match specific activities people carry out at work. Examples include cleaning a guest room, serving customers, securing premises, or building a retaining wall. Every job is made up of several units of competency.

Each unit of competency is further broken down into smaller parts, called elements and performance criteria. These are what assessors use when they are judging whether someone is “competent” or “not yet competent”.

Being deemed “competent” means that:

- You know how to do the job or specific task
- You understand why it should be done in certain ways
- You can manage different tasks simultaneously
- You can deal with everyday problems that may occur
- You understand and comply with workplace policies and procedures plus relevant legislation
- You work well with others in your team or workplace
- You do all of these things consistently and regularly

National Recognition – Credit Transfer

Zealifi recognises and accepts Statements of Attainment and qualifications issued by other Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) for equivalent units of competency. Students who have previously completed nationally recognised training may apply for Credit Transfer (CT). Credit Transfer recognises prior completion of the same or equivalent unit of competency and may result in a new Statement of Attainment being issued.

All Credit Transfer applications are subject to verification, including confirmation of the issuing RTO, unit equivalence, student identity, and regulatory acceptance where applicable.

A non-refundable administrative fee of $150 inc. GST applies.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

Zealifi does not offer Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) for the courses delivered. RSA and RSG training are regulatory licensing requirements across Australian states and territories, and regulators require completion of the approved course in full. RPL is therefore not an acceptable pathway for these units.

How to Apply

Students wishing to apply for Credit Transfer should submit a Credit Transfer Application Form with supporting documentation prior to enrolment or as early as possible.

Third Party Arrangements

Zealifi does not engage in any third-party arrangements, all our accredited courses are only delivered by our registered training organisation and statement of attainment is only issued by our registered training organisation.

The Assessment Process

The purpose of assessment is to collect evidence about your knowledge and skills and compare it to a set of industry standards. This comparison will result in a "competent" or "not yet competent" outcome. If you are deemed "not yet competent", your trainer will talk to you about what you can do. You may need to participate in more training or undertake additional assessment tasks. In our courses the types of assessment evidence that is used are:

Questions used in both Online and Face-to-Face Courses

Types of questions that are used can include multiple choice, fill in the blank, matrix sorting, single choice (True or False or Yes or No), and short answer. The online courses will have self-marking quizzes that include all the types of questions examples as above except for short answer questions. Short answer questions which can include writing answers in your own words or referring to an included website link or PDF policy will be marked by a qualified trainer or assessor. If a trainer or assessor marks your short answer question 'not satisfactory', they will provide feedback.

This feedback is emailed to the student, letting them know they need to make a new attempt, and the feedback will provide guidance on what is required for the new attempt to be marked 'satisfactory'.

In the face-to-face courses all question types are included in a printed assessment which is provided to students at the beginning of the course. The trainer will mark the printed assessment during or after the course and provide feedback to the student if their assessment has been awarded a 'satisfactory' result.

Verbal Recording (for Online RSA and RSG only)

The verbal recording component is conducted by ZAC (Zealifi Academy Centre) Online Recording Tool, it is a mobile number that the student will call, the student will select either RSA or RSG and then record their name and date of birth. They will then hear the first scenario and then get the opportunity to record their response. If the student makes a mistake they can press '7' on their phone and can re-record. Then scenario 2 is heard by the student and after this the student will record their response. After the two scenario responses are recorded, the student will hear the congratulations message that lets them know the trainer/assessor will be advised of their verbal recording submission and trainer/assessor will mark and provide feedback either a 'Well Done' or 'Need to try again' message. The student is given the option if they require assistance by selecting '3' or saying 'assist' at the beginning of when they call, their call will be transferred to the office phone number.

Simulations and Role Plays (for face-to-face courses only)

These involve you performing tasks of provided scenarios for either refusal of service to different types of customers or providing assistance to at risk gambling customers. It allows students to practice what they have learnt in the course and gives them the opportunity to perform a common work task such as refusal of alcohol service. The student will write down what they would say if they were performing the role as the staff member in a hospitality venue and then take turns in performing the role of the staff member and the customer. The trainer will observe each student and provide their feedback to the student.

A FEW OTHER POINTS ON ASSESSMENT (QUIZZES):

- The onus will be on you to complete and submit assessments within the time specified by the trainer or to make alternative arrangements before the due date.
- It is our policy to allow a student five attempts (online) and three attempts (face to face) for each assessment item. After the attempts limit has been reached trainer or assessor intervention will be required, in the online courses the student will be locked out, they can continue with other course items and until the quiz has been unlocked.
- You should keep track of your progress by communicating regularly with your trainer.

Workplace Health and Safety

Health and Safety is an individual and shared responsibility of everyone in the training venue. Zealifi will make every reasonable effort to ensure that we have considered all areas of accident and injury prevention, hazard control, health preservation and promotion.

All students have a “duty of care” to protect their own safety as well as that of other students and trainers. The success of a safety and health program ultimately rests on the willingness of everyone to cooperate. If you are ever in doubt about how to do a job or task safely, it is your responsibility to ask your trainer for advice or assistance. It is your “duty of care” to:

- Report unsafe conditions, hazards, incidents, accidents and “near misses” immediately to the trainer.
- Follow all lawful instructions given by your trainer.
- Wear protective clothing and other equipment as required.
- Only use equipment and machinery that you have been taught to operate correctly. Always follow manufacturer’s instructions for use.
- Inform staff of any medical condition that may affect their work or of any medication they are required to take.

Workplace Health and Safety is legislated by two government bodies - WorkSafe Australia and the relevant state Workcover Authority (e.g. Workcover Queensland). More information about Queensland regulations, standards and requirements can be found at <http://www.worksafe.qld.gov.au>.

Emergencies

In the unlikely event of an emergency such as a fire or bomb threat, you may need to evacuate. The evacuation procedure is essentially:

- Remain calm
- Follow the instructions given by your trainer or safety representative
- Move to designated assembly area
- List and respond to the roll call
- Remain in the evacuation area until you are instructed to leave by your trainer or safety representative
